Dear ones, shalom!

South Korea

During my time in Korea at the end of October last year I was impressed by the dedication to God in the Churches. Each day all of the churches hold morning prayer meetings attended by families. These services include the children before they start their school day. Sundays the “Children of Light Church” in Seoul has three services each with 800 on fire Christians. The spiritual atmosphere and God’s favor upon this nation are tangible.

Peru

Most of you have contributed in prayer and financially so that our coworkers and I can bring relief to the areas that were devastated by the El Niño Disasters in March. Many thousands of destitute families are still trying to resettle. Infrastructure is improving, but communication systems like phone lines are still weak and cause us much frustration.

During the last few months God has granted a mega soul harvest. There have been numerous testimonies about God’s healing power. The Lamb of God has received His reward for His suffering in the soul harvest among the most needy and destitute.

The testimony of Linder, an indigenous native:

Blessed are the poor, because they are rich in faith!

While cutting trees deep in the jungle, a tree trunk bounced back and hit Linder between his legs. After this horrific accident, 34-year-old Linder was carried by two men on a four hour walk through the jungle at night to the nearest village where Monica and I were ministering. The next day we accompanied him on a three hour trip in pouring rain on a boat without roof. This was followed by a bumpy ride on a three wheel motorcycle, and then a two hour taxi ride to the city of Moyobamba. When he was finally admitted to the hospital he was still bleeding, his belly was swollen, and he was unable to urinate.

Most Indigenous people do not seek medical help in clinics or hospitals. They are afraid they will be killed. This fear is not completely unfounded. Because of this, they only go to a clinic or hospital as a last resort. The shaman or medicine man is usually consulted first. Only if their help and prayer are ineffective is a medical doctor considered.

Once admitted to the hospital, Linder refused to be operated on despite intense pain. A drain was placed in the wound. He stayed at the hospital for ten days while believing God to heal him. All Peruvian citizens now have minimal government medical insurance. However, that insurance does not cover all the expenses of a hospital stay. Your giving enabled us to pay for x-rays and other expenses. Monica and I were both very concerned, and visited him daily. At the end of ten days he had recovered enough to ask to be released and returned home to his wife and seven children. He was discharged with an anti-inflammatory medication and a recommended two week follow-up. We bought him a phone and provided him transportation and two men to accompany him for the trip home. We thank God for His divine intervention and thank all of you who made this possible by your prayers and financial support.

Esperanza

Esperanza is the poorest part of Trujillo, Peru's second largest city. People in this arid mountainous region are rebuilding their lives with new hope after last year's devastating flooding. God is sending us with HIS Word and they receive it with gladness. Because of your intercession and generous giving, we are able to assist with tangible goods, such as building materials, food, clothing and so much more. We also help in many practical ways and we are teaching life skills.

Sand hills: Shacks made from black and blue plastic sheeting scrap wood and metal.

Because of extreme poverty, there is also much crime: A pastor at one of the churches, we minister to, found two dead men lying in front of the building when he arrived during the day. No one had cared to have the bodies removed. That's why to hold services at night is too risky, but our God is in the miracle working business. Because of God's grace quite a few families experienced miracles. Some women became fervent in prayer. They have received their husbands or sons, who have been delivered from drugs, back into the family and ready to seek employment. These men re-assume their role as fathers, help carrying building bricks up hill, and buckets of water after the water delivery truck stops once a week. "Love conquers all" both God's love and ours, as His coworkers. Together with them we believe that the barren hills will change.

Six women praying, each one testified of God's healing

Your support of Kitty Hamilton Ministry has eternal value. According to what we sow, we will reap. As you continue to support us faithfully, you will be part of Gods life changing miracles among the indigenous native people and the poor in the sand hills of Peru. May all your love and efforts bring forth a rich harvest of blessings for you and your loved ones in this New Year.
